Becoming a Muslim and How to be a Muslim?..... 61

Note

The word Allah found in these verses
is an Arabic word for God.

One God? or Many gods?

Is it One God? or Many gods? Argumentative debates about it will shed light on wisdom.

Let's see it as Question and Answer method in order to have more clarity on the above.

Question :

What is the difference between the principle of God that Islam says and the principle of God that other religions say?

Answer: Islam says that there is only one God without doubt - strain - scum. Other religions glorify many deities and practice worshiping them.

But if asked which deity among these many deities is the one who creates, feeds, nurtures and protects the environment including the world? the worshipers of many deities will each give different answers and one will not agree with what other says.

In a particular religion in India, the information is that even the 'creater god' itself created by another god, but the Holy Quran stats that Allah is the Creator, Protector and Sustainer, of the entire Universe.

It is He who created for you all of that which is on the earth. Then He directed Himself[1] to the heaven, [His being above all creation], and made them seven heavens, and He is Knowing of all things. (Quran 2:29)

Originator of the heavens and the earth. When He decrees a matter, He only says to it, "Be," and "it is". (Quran 2:117)

He created the heavens and earth in truth. High is He above what they associate with Him. (Quran 16:3)

Allah is the Creator of all things, and He is, over all things, Disposer of affairs. (Quran 39:62)

That is Allah, your Lord, Creator of all things; there is no deity except Him, so how are you deluded? (Quran 40:62)

There are such anecdotal evidences in Quran that there is one God. But is there any sacred scripture to support their argument for many gods (polytheism)? Are there any verses like these in it? No.

Is there any scripture to support the worship of many deities? asks the Holy Quran.

Or have We given them a book before it [i.e., the Qur'an] to which they are adhering? Quran 43:21

Rather, they say, "Indeed, we found our fathers upon a religion, and we are in their footsteps [rightly] guided." Quran 43:22

This is the truth! The proof of polytheism is that "our ancestors worshiped many gods and so do we".

But is that statement true? No! The forefathers and forefathers before the forefathers worshiped only one God. It was those who came in between who introduced polytheism. Therefore, it is not true that we walk in the path of our ancestors and worship many deities!

How?

If we look at the history of two thousand years ago, the deities that were worshiped then do not exist anymore. The gods worshiped now did not exist then. New gods are appearing every day. It is the news that they themselves say that many deities are not worshiped now and the temples are ruined due to the fact that no one left to worship them.

Are they (polytheist) stand firm in their principles of worshiping many gods? Not even that!

For example - If they have to argue with an atheist who say there is no God, How do they begin their argument when they begin to argue that there is a God?

Who created this earth? Who created the universe? Who feeds and nurtures life? “Isn’t there a great power that does all this?” This is how they should ask, right?

Can they argue this way? Aren’t there two powers that do all these? Aren’t there three Lords?

Because a theistic philosophy has the power to wrap the atheist with arguments and make him realize the truth. Polytheism doesn’t have that power at all.

What would those polytheists do if we turned the question to them which they have asked atheists?

Say, “Who provides for you from the heaven and the earth? Or who controls hearing and sight and who brings the living out of the dead and brings the dead out of the living and who arranges [every] matter?” They will say, “Allāh,” so say, “Then will you not fear Him?”
Quran:10:31

These are all the questions that the Holy Quran asks Prophet Muhammed to ask those polytheists lived at that time. And the polytheists of 1400 years ago could not answer these questions and the polytheists of today cannot answer them either.

Even in practice, what do polytheists say when they suffer, or persecuted?

Immediately they would say, “There is a God above us, He will take care,”. They don’t say, “There are two gords, there are five gods and they will take care of you if you complain”!

This is what the Holy Quran says in its style.

- Then when adversity touches you, to Him you cry for help. Quran 16:53

There are other strange polytheists who accept in principle that there is one God. In practice they believe & pray to many gods.

God is one! Be one!
(Thirumantram, Thirumoolar)

God bless you!

They sing all such songs but in practice they worship many deities. All religions are in such a state of confusion till today, but Islam is unmoved in the fact that there is only one God.

* One God in principle.

* Islam clearly states that there is one God in practice.

When you meet any Muslim whether he is from - the glacier - the rich Polar region - the mountain region - the riverbed region - the coastal villages - from the desert land and ask How many Gods do you have or worship?

In one voice/answer they all give when asked -

- We will worship one God.... Quran 2:133

And your god is One God. There is no deity [worthy of worship] except Him, Quran 2:163

Allah - there is no deity except Him, Quran 2:255

Indeed, Allah is but one God. Quran' 4:171

And there is no god except one God. Quran 5:73

Indeed, He is but one God, Quran 6:19

Worship Allah; you have no deity other than Him. Quran 7:65

"Who is Lord of the heavens and earth?" Say, "Allah." Quran 13:16

"Do not take for yourselves two[1] deities. He [i.e.,

Allah] is but one God, Quran 16:51

Say, “I am only a man like you, to whom has been revealed that your god is one God. Quran 18:110

Such numerous verses in the Holy Quran emphasize that “God is One”. Therefore, Islam has clarity, truth and majesty in theology.

Muslims are those who keep in mind and worship only one God by bowing their heads and raising both hands to invoke.

Are there not two gods?

Question: A friend of mine from an other religion asks, "Why should we have only one God? What's wrong in Keeping two or three deities?"

Answer: "Keep the god?" What? Is he a flower? Or commodity? To say, "Let's Keeps two or three instead of one"? is god a commodity to your liking?

"Keeping" is the opposite of theism. Theism is the belief that "God created the universe including the entire living beings".

Why is it an atheist argues that man created God according to his imagination? The other side of it which claims to "hold" or "keep" two or three or more gods.

Take a closer look at those who count god as two, three, or many gods.

They make up stories to establish that each of their god has greater power. Then competition comes between them and they create unbelievable myths to make one deity is superior to another.

Some myths have false stories of one deity fighting another deity - fighting on the battlefield. They end the story with one deity losing and the other deity winning, opponents calling this a “lie” and derogatory stories and debates emerging.The result? History says that there were clashes, fights and even killings among the devotees.

The “Shiva-Vishnu” fight had been very important in the history of India, especially in the history of Southern India. The eyes of Koorthalvan, a disciple of Ramanujar, a Vaishnava who believed in Vishnu, was dug out due to above fight.

According to Shaivism history, Appar alias Tirunavukarasar, was tied in stone and thrown into the sea for turning from a Samana to a Saiva during the Samana-Saivite war.

Similarly, there is a historical report that during the period of Gnanasambandar, eight thousand Jains were hanged on gallows and made to renounce their lives.

The common sense people who read all these jump to another perverse conclusion. They reach the state of atheism where they neither want God nor religion.

Those who accept many deities in the same religion think that they need to increase the value of their deities and build stories of love, marriage and child birth for those deities! What is the result?

* They bring God - to the level of ordinary human beings.

Some others - word miscreants - some poisoners - describe the God as lustful. They have fabricated and written false & lustful stories, what is the result of this?

* They describe God downgraded from his dignified and majestic nature to human nature.

Readers of these erotic stories ask, “Is God like this?” Considering that, they become those who say, “There are no gods who are inferior to this wretched man.”

Atheists do not appear to be “overwhelming” among those who believe in One God.

* Among the polytheists, atheists emerged as a storm. They will keep appearing more & more and again & again.

So polytheism is the source, source and origin of atheism and it is indeed the highest truth.

It can be seen that Islam, which believes in only one God, has a pure and lofty interpretation of God.

Allah - The Entirely Merciful, the Especially Merciful, Quran 1:2

No partner has He. Quran 6:163

He has no offspeing. Quran 2:116

It is He who created for you all of that which is on the earth. Quran 2:29

[All] praise is [due] to Allāh, Lord[1] of the worlds Quran 1:1

And there will remain the Face[1] of your Lord, Owner of Majesty and Honor. Quran 55:27

Sovereign of the Day of Recompense. Quran 1:3

Indeed, Allah is Knower of the unseen [aspects] of the heavens and earth. Indeed, He is Knowing of that within the breasts. Quran 35:38

Indeed, Allah is over all things competent. Quran 16:77

“None in the heavens and earth knows the unseen except Allah, Quran 27:65

Allah is Knowing of all things. Quran 9:115

“Indeed, Allah does not order immorality. Quran 7:28

Allah intends for you ease and does not intend for you hardship Quran 2:185

Allah invites to the Home of Peace [i.e., Paradise] Quran 10:25

Islam mentions such noble words about God. When we read these, we feel a deep sense of devotion and fear.

* Honorable God.

* A decent pious devotee.

Both states appear. It is only when worshiping One God that the worshiper and the worshiped attain a pure and dignified state.

* One God is true! That is why we say there is only one God.

Veda of Polytheism.

Question: You said, "There is no testimony of the Vedas for those who worship polytheists." Do polytheists point to some as their scriptures? What do you say?

Answer : All that they exemplify as their scriptures - is different from the core concept for an Islamic principles of the Vedas.

Veda must be an authentic divine revelation, pure, unalterable without any contradiction and must contain crystal clear evidences of past, present & future as per Islamic principle.

In beginning of the Bible it contains history of the prophets and comes in between the verses spoken by the God.

Later part of it, the history of Prophet Jesus and his advice will be discussed.

It is said that the four Vedas of Hinduism are hymns of rishis to God.

Even the Bhagavad Gita appears to be the words of Krishna incarnated as a human being.

But the Holy Quran is the sacred scripture given by God as His words who did not take human birth.

In the Holy Quran it is said that “There is only one God and there are no other deities”.

We need to take a closer look at a message. Even the Vedas, which many polytheists show, do not deny that “God is one”. It does not come forward to argue against it.

Even now try calling polytheists to argue about it. They will not come to this discussion. Even if they come, they will fail. Because they do not have complete confidence that the principle they depend on is true. Advocates without absolute faith cannot win.

Islamic history is a debate and battle between monotheism and polytheism.

Islam is an old religion

Question : This is new news! You should give a detailed explanation about this.

Answer : It is a mistake to assume that "Prophet Muhammed appeared in the Arab country and established a new God and a new religion".

In Makkah is where the first prayer place established to worship Allah. Those Arab people also kept the name Abdullah (slave of Allah) in their names. The Prophet's father's name was also Abdullah.

But the Arab people started worshiping many gods along with that one God named Allah (Arabic word for God). These Arab people as time passes inserted many idols in that prayer place (where there were no idols) saying that they were sub-gods and co-gods.

It was against those many deities that the Prophet - with the grace of God - held a debate and tried to bring everyone to the path of God by warning them to worship only one God.

Today in our (India) country and in the world (-in many other countries) people are worshiping many deities. Against this, the task of Islam today is to call them to worship one God.

As we do this work worshipers of many deities will come in a different way. They say that our religion is tolerant and also acceptable and politely say, “We add your Allah to our gods.”

But those who have a religious principle of worshiping one God have not accepted this and will not accept it in the future.

Look closely at the history of the Prophets, they worked against people abandoning worshiping one God and warned worshiping many deities. That histories of Prophets as warners ends with the time of Prophet Mohammad, (may God’s peace & blessings upon him) and after that, the responsibility of disseminating a religious philosophy against polytheism lies with those who believe in the path of the Prophet (- us).

Can images be worshipped?

Question: Some ask for a discussion. One acknowledges a deity i.e. One God. But can he worship that One God through a picture, - as a statue?

Answer: He should answer our questions before praying like that.

1. Have worshipers ever seen a thing made in an image (statue) alive?

2. Let there be worshippers. Did their creators (of these pictures, statues) see those gods in person?

If you draw something that you don't see in person and carve it as a statue, it's called imagination!

* Those who have not seen God in person, it is a "lie" to paint them as pictures and carve them as idols!

* According to Islamic philosophy no one can see God in person: invisible.

* Islam considers it not only a “lie” but also a ‘sin’ to make an image of God, whom we cannot see, according to our will.

* Doing this, is not only a greater sin than murder and theft, but because it is a lie about God, Islam defines it as an “unforgivable sin”.

Atheists say that God was created by man’s imagination, and these idols and images are the only way to say “yes” to that, so just as atheism is an unforgivable sin, it is an unforgivable sin even if God is made into an idol or image!

Is it right to carve a statue out of big rock and paint a picture on one’s imagination for God who (has much greater power to) control the entire universe (Earth, Space, Mountains, Sun, Galaxy, Solar Systems etc) and living beings?

So it is right that this is considered a “lie” and a “sin unforgivable by God”!

Holy Quran says.

Indeed, Allah does not forgive association with Him, but He forgives what is less than that for whom He wills. And he who associates others with Allāh has certainly fabricated a tremendous sin. Quran ‘ 4:48

Indeed, Allah does not forgive association with Him, but He forgives what is less than that for whom He wills. And he who associates others with Allāh has certainly gone far astray. Quran 4:116

And yet in many such verses of the Qur'an it is said that "associating others with Him is a sin."

Why is it considered the unpardonable sin? How do they set up idols and images of God? Some put hands, feet, and face in the human form and show the illusion of four arms, eight arms, and sixteen arms.

Similarly in India some gods are also given weapons in their hands. Why weapons for almighty? For safety? Or To destroy others?

* God has the power to do whatever he thinks, weapons for God? -, does that not show him as weak - powerless?

* How big a sin is it to carve female private parts when some people create female gods as idols?

The story goes that an Indian painter painted his girl friend (kings daughter- a Royal clan) whom he loved as a female deity. How big a sin is it to believe and worship a man's lover as a goddess?

If you make the God out of carved stone, make a statue, draw a picture and say, "This is the God" - will the God get angry or not?

For example, would you feel angry if a person who paints your picture without looking at you - and makes your picture - into an idol and tells someone that this is who you are?

How angry would you be if someone shows you that you are with three heads, four arms and eight legs in that statue and picture?

If you angry or not when some one create a false image and statue of yourself as a perishable human being...

* Without beginning and end

* Without birth and death...

* No one has ever seen - Great power that cannot be seen - Omnipotent God

Is it not an “unforgivable sin” if any one by making a false idol or image on God?

Can an image (idol) makes you Concentrated?

Question: They say that God was created in the form of an image “to concentrate thoughts - in worship, in meditation”!

Answer: Muslims proved it false for thousands of years by practically showing..

200 crore (2 Billion) Muslims worship from north pole to south pole from one end to the other end without any idol or image! They are also in spiritual meditation! So it is a lie that the mind will be united only if there is a picture or an idol in front of you.

The ship sails in the middle of the sea. A storm is brewing. There appears to be a terrible situation where everyone will drown and die. There is no image, no idol in the ship. What will they do? Will those who worship the idol and the image not pray with unity of mind without the image? Will they not listen to danger?

Even if you look at the history of many countries - Puranas, it is said that the greatest sages sat alone without idols and prayed - meditated?

* Therefore, it is false that only if there is an image or the idol, the mind will be united and involved in the worship of God.

Do idols have Power?

Question

Some people believe that idols are powerful?

Answer: But not really. Their own newspapers report that the idols are stolen by thieves and sold abroad.

Tavathiru Brahmananda Swami (1852 - 1929), a Hindu Siddha in India, speaks of the powerlessness of idols in his book “Condemnation of Idol Worship”. “Idols have no power”.

We see thieves breaking into some famous temples and stealing immeasurable wealth. We also know of stories of desecrated idols and images set up in some temples were planted upside down (by other religious people).

Even an ant or a mosquito could resist on an attack to them but not these idols.

If the idols are really powerful, before the thieves could enter the temple to steal them, shouldn't they have given a warning to the guards, priests, Dharmakaths, devotees, policemen etc. that "thieves are coming"?

Could it be that despite such a warning, when the thieves stole the statue and ran, shouldn't the arms & legs of the thieves are stuck and they could not run further?

When the public see such a stance of the thieves standing (stuck) like that (the next morning), the great sinners who have no piety will have piety! Those thieves will also have a high devotion and they will have come to the right path!

If the idols are more powerful, they should have influenced the thieves not to have the idea to steal in their minds!

Many of the troopers broke the idols in the temples and carried away the ornaments. Why were these idols gagged then?

If those idols have at least a little power, can they show their power at least in their respective occasions?

Will these impotent idols protect us? Cure our diseases? Will it give Santana Vridhi (offspring)? Gives wealth?

Vasishta Mamuni would say; those who worship idols and perform sacrifices, fasts, charity, and dancing are beasts!

So it is clear to us that the sages of Hinduism also opposed idol worship.

The Old Testament, the first part of the Bible that Christians read, is a history of opposing to idolatry. There is even a history of some of them breaking idols. The book also proves that idols have no power.

Are natural forces gods?

Question; Some people do worship the sun, wind, fire, moon, stars etc. claiming that they are amazing powers for us too? Is that right?

Answer: Even if all are powers or wonders but these also have destruction. That is, there is a tendency to fall under control.

At night the Sun does not have full dominance. Astronomers say that the sun itself will eventually disintegrate into dust one day.

Even the moon and stars are destructive, science says today.

Air and fire can be controlled to some extent. There are times and places where there is no air or fire at all. (Void space of the Celestials).

Therefore, even though these are all powerful, they are mortal and subject to control, so they cannot become the mighty God that we should worship.

If you start praying or worshiping everything that amazes you as a deity, then lakhs and crores of deities will appear. In Hinduism, it is said that there are three hundred and thirty millions (thirty three crores) of Gods. If I write it down, I can see the surprise in it. 330,000,000 (33,00,00,000) is the number that can be surprised by writing it down.

Do they pray or worship these natural forces - especially the Formless forces (Shaktis) - consider them formless and worship them as it is? No, not at all. They also make a idol or picture and celebrate it & Praying. Due to this, the number of idols also increases by millions (crores). Every story is woven about each idol - billions of stories are created beyond the capacity of the human brain.

For example, in the Hindu scriptures, only three are specifically mentioned as major gods. But then the forces (Shaktis) were made gods. After that animals, trees, birds and rivers were all made into gods and idols.

The wisdom to remove the ignorant concepts of idolatry and polytheism that have arisen in this way is told throughout the Holy Quran. The Holy Quran verse about the history of Abraham says this.

And [mention, O Muḥammad], when Abraham said to his father Āzar, "Do you take idols as deities? Indeed, I see you and your people to be in manifest error."
Quran 6:74

And thus did We show Abraham the realm of the heavens and the earth that he would be among the certain [in faith]. Quran 6:75

So when the night covered him [with darkness], he saw a star. He said, "This is my lord."[1] But when it set, he said, "I like not those that set [i.e., disappear]."
Quran 6:76

And when he saw the moon rising, he said, "This is my lord." But when it set, he said, "Unless my Lord guides me, I will surely be among the people gone astray."
Quran 6:77

And when he saw the sun rising, he said, "This is my lord; this is greater." But when it set, he said, "O my people, indeed I am free from what you associate with Allah. Quran 6:78

Indeed, I have turned my face [i.e., self] toward He who created the heavens and the earth, inclining toward truth, and I am not of those who associate others with Allah.
Quran 6:79

In what way are those who liberally take many deities and worship all the (natural) powers superior to those who worship only one God?

Can it be proved by the philosophical argument that "God is not one, but there are many gods"?

Does the sun, fire, wind, etc. give any special light, warmth, tenderness to the one who worships them? Are the cow-like animals worshiped by many as deities given a special - special privilege to them? No!

So those who worship many deities in parallel with one God running towards a weaker one as their security. The Holy Quran explains this beautifully with an example.

The example of those who take allies other than Allah is like that of the spider who takes [i.e., constructs] a home. And indeed, the weakest of homes is the home of the spider, if they only knew. Quran 29:41

Therefore worshiping the forces (sun, moon, fire etc) of the world as many deities is only that can ultimately be destroyed in vain one day.

Is God within us?

Are we God?

Question: Some people are of the believe, saying "I am the God - Ahambrama" or "The God is within us". Everyone is God's aspect i.e. component (-part). Is this correct?

Answer: No, "We belong to God. We are bound by God's power" is the better and correct statement.

Some say that the concept of "God within us" was coined based on the idea that the breath of life came from God to first man Adam and then through generations.

The kings of earlier times at different geographical area declared themselves as God out of arrogance.

Pharaoh - the king of Egypt

Namrudu - the King of Central Asia

That list goes on. But when all these people die or killed, they don't say "God is dead" or "God is Killed." were it who dies or murdered can be a God? The question arises.

The idea that we belong to God and are bound by God's power is appropriate.

God himself created us; He is guarding us; God himself destroys us; Believers who acknowledge that God alone will punish and reward on the day of judgment. True statement is "God is the Creator and we are his Creations."

* We are not Him

* We belong to Him

It is an impractical argument to claim that God is within us, contrary to the grammar of God - and to say that we are God.

No human can act in violation of the following grammar of

- birth, - innocence, - childhood - development of organs, - relaxation, - size of organs, - mode of deposition, - reproduction of lust-related offspring, - aging, - old age and - death.

Therefore, it is impossible to think that the human being who is subject to the above grammar has contained the God within himself. It is not possible to pretend to be God.

So can it be assumed that God is somewhere far away from man? Islam answers in a beautiful way.

...- indeed I am near. I respond to the invocation of the supplicant when he calls upon Me....

Quran 2:186

.....We are closer[1] to him than [his] jugular vein.....

Quran 50:16

And We [i.e., Our angels] are nearer to him than you, but you do not see -

Quran 56:85

How beautiful is the fact that the God is near us rather than I am the god! or the god within us?

Are Avatars God?

Question: It is said that God took human form. What is the answer to this concept of incarnation?

Answer: To say that God appeared on earth and protected good people and destroyed the mighty is to underestimate God's power.

He can do that without taking human form. Or God can give some people on the earth more power than the bad guys and destroy them. Why should he come down to earth to do the above?

More over, to take a form of a human in order to come to earth god should born through a woman's womb which is against the principle that the God is without birth and death.

When he came as a human being, he had to weave a story of childhood, puberty, lust and childbearing that would add insult to the divinity. Can God do this? Not only atheists but also believers start asking questions.

Incarnation of God in Hindu mythology

* Rama hide and kills Vali.

* Krishna does adharmas to protect dharma.

* Jesus, who came to teach love, takes a whip in the church and beats.

Although thousands of reasons and explanations are given for these actions, “Can God do this?” The question remains.

God has no birth; no death; If we accept the fact that He does not incarnate as a human being - we can see that the God is better away from these criticisms. Islam emphasizes this.

God does not incarnate. Instead he chooses his messengers from among men. He commands to defend the good and to oppose the bad. What a beautiful truth this is.

So It is not true that in order for God to come down to earth he took human incarnation. Nor is it fit for pure piety.

Can female deities be accepted?

Question: Those who worship male deities also worship female deities, is this correct?

Answer: Some make the female deity more powerful than the male deity. Still others create a female deity as the wife and equal power of the male deity and some create females as daughters of the male deity. The outcome of this should be closely observed.

It can be seen that a lot of stories and imaginations are addes to validate and the result of which has destroyed the pure divinity.

Some in Hinduism make up the story of Adiparashakti as the creator of the universe.

* If there is no female power, Shiva cannot function.

* In the Bible, stories are made up of Mary, who did not perform any miracles - did not preach, except given birth to Jesus Christ (as per God's will) - as the Mother of God.

* Even in Arabia during the Prophet's time, the story was fabricated that mighty goddesses were the female daughters of Allah. Their idols were also kept in Makkah.

If we ask the creators of these goddesses and girls/ladies in general;

Can a woman run as a full first force? Can they be a complete primal force on their own even in practical life?

No matter what - you can see them admitting many times that I am a girl (having inability and weaknesses in their daily affairs). The truth is that they cannot function without male dominance or assistance.

The story should also be fictional about those who made women goddesses - the periods of puberty - sex - marriage - children. It should also be said about the sexual organs. Those imaginations tend to pull down the exaltation of divinity. What does the Holy Quran say about these gods?

But they have taken besides Him gods which create nothing, while they are created, and possess not for themselves any harm or benefit and possess not [power to cause] death or life or resurrection.

Quran 25:3

- ...and have fabricated for Him sons and daughters without knowledge. Exalted is He and high above what they describe. Quran 6:100

In practical life they don't like to have girls. The face is contorted. But the Holy Qur'an demolishes that these women are the first and foremost gods - daughters of God.

And they attribute to Allah that which they dislike [i.e., daughters], ... Quran 16:62

So inquire of them, [O Muḥammad], "Does your Lord have daughters while they have sons? Or did We create the angels as females while they were witnesses?" Unquestionably, it is out of their [invented] falsehood that they say, "Allah has begotten," and indeed, they are liars. Quran 37 : 149 - 152

Therefore, Islam does not accept the idea that woman is the first deity, that woman is God's consort, that woman is God's mother (Devamata) or that God gave birth to female children. On the contrary, it is an opinion that crumbles and shattered before rational arguments

Wisdom 1

Those who believe in God

Dear all

Are you a believer in God? If yes, may the God bless you! Next question - Do you believe in One God Do you believe there are many gods? - If you believe that there are many gods, some questions arise.

Have you ever debated with any atheist (or denier of God) claiming that God exists? Or told the truth about God to ignorant people and children?

In that discussion you will point out about the movement of the cosmic mediums including this world - about the spheres rotating without support, about the seasons that occur regularly, about the world prosperity resulting from it, about the beautiful and orderly canon in them, about the miracle of the birth of a child in the mother's womb by a drop of life-giving water.

What questions do you ask to the athiest about the strange wonders of the world? What kind of questions do you ask to confirm your faith in God?

Do you realize now that there is a power that regulates all these miracles? Is that how you ask? Right?

So belief in God begins with “One” (one God).

But some people think that there are many gods; and Worship them Doesn’t this differ from the initial argument of one God, and contradicts what is perceived as true?

If there are two gods in addition to One God - there will be conflict - strife - quarrel. Check out many god stories. It would be like two gods fighting each other.

One more true theory of the existence of one God is that devotees praise and worship the God alone, so the one whom we can worship must be higher and purer than us.

So the God we worship cannot be born by the whim - the desire - of our parents like us. God must be purer and higher than us, born and unborn by anyone’s desire.

The principle of many gods prompts us to imagine a wife, mother, father and children for God. This polytheism demeans the highest and most holy God to the status of the lowest and most despicable and despicable man.

You who are pious praise God for many things. Pray especially for your needs. One of the human needs is the quality of a wife and the physical pleasure she provides.

Will the God we worship be a man-necessary wife and a lover of lust? It is a sin to think like that!

Therefore, the God should be who does not want a wife and physical pleasure, without any need, and should be very holy beyond that need.

Believing that God has wife and children is tantamount to human and dishonoring God. Take a closer look at the stories of gods with wives and children. The commentaries are like normal human families having fights and quarrels. Isn't this also dishonoring God? Give it some thought!

So now you have come to a conclusion that the God we worship should be one who does not have the above-mentioned demerits and at the same time has only virtues.

Dear Reader! Is there a religion in the world that speaks of God as you understood now?

God is one!

God is not born to anyone. Not given birth to anyone.

God is without needs.

God has no wife, sons or daughters.

He is very, very pure.

The only religion that says the above virtues in the whole world.

That is Islam!

The God of Islam - Pure God “Allah”!

The word Allah is not a separate God that belongs only to Arab countries & Muslims. The Arabic word “Allah” means (only) God for the entire Universe “I am your God worship Me”. He says in Holy Quran.

So Allah is your God.

Dear Reader! ! It has been so long to know the truth, what to do now? Don’t hesitate. There is no time limit for accepting truth as truth.

Dear Reader! Being a quill you grew up in a crow’s nest untill this day. “Today there is only One God” has sprouted a wing of wisdom. Spread your wings and fly in the sky of wisdom that belongs to you.

We promise in the name of Allah, the One God.

I will worship the only God “ from this day of receiving this Islamic wisdom, life would take a distinguish dimension by the grace of Allah.

Wisdom 2

What is your God like?

Dear reader who has faith in God!

Many of the people acknowledge God but want that God to be theirs only.

Still others think that their God belongs only to a particular country and to a particular race. Dear reader! Do you agree with this?

You will not agree because God is beyond such narrow distinctions.

God does not differentiate His creation, human race, on the basis of country, race and caste. He does not show indifference or hatred.

God's love belongs to all. But to whom His special love belongs, it is to those who realize God and have faith in Him.

So faith is the measure of true God. No nation, no race, no caste can claim that this faith is wholly ours.

Rich people may have houses, cattles and wealth etc.. bacause of such possession faith in God cannot be said to be their property. But a poor man who has no possessions but has true faith in God can be “the first in faith.”..

In some religions “we are the people chosen by God and claim that the land we live in is holy land.

In some religions, the rich are given priority in worship which attained due to more donations.

Dear reader!

Do you think it is wrong to confine God to the narrow group of country, race and caste?

Don’t you want to be privileged before God for being rich, right?

Is there a religion for the whole world without being limited to a particular country, a particular race, a particular caste?

* God belongs to all nations

* Belongs to all races and languages.

* Caste discrimination should not be seen. All the people of the world are brothers born from the same mother and father!

* Neither money nor social standing should be considered great. Faith is the only criterion. Islam is the only religion that declares this!

If you like these good news of Islam then read Holy Qur'an which is the holy book of Islam. Read the sayings of Prophet Muhammad (Sallallahu Alaihi Wasallam).

* People of the world

* The children of the first man named Adam!

That is what Islam calls the people of the world and tells the good news.

There is no front row for the rich in the mosques or in the Holy place of Mecca.

If you like such a clarity in Islam, come and learn more.

Don't hesitate to learn about good wisdom - good things. Reluctance to know wisdom leads to ignorance.

Dear reader

You are like a bee! Your duty is to fly towards the honey. Islam is a flower-filled full of wisdom. Come fly! Come and learn the wisdom!

Wisdom 3

Does God need an offering?

Dear reader who has faith in God!

God will surely shower the Eucharist for you being a believer of God

But let us consider what our faith has been like.

Do you think Offering some fruits, flowers, food items and gold coins to god's sannithanam, will it be thankful to God's favours on us?

If man is unable to reciprocate his hands for the favors of his mother, how can he reciprocate his hands for the favour favour of his God?

* For mother the child's smile is enough!

* When a child calls her Mom, Mom, it suffices her.

God does not want any offering from his devotee. Devotee's involvement in God's thoughts - Always praise and gratitude towards God is what God wants.

* If this thought should occur to people, they should understand the fact that God is without any needs. He who does not say, "Pay me oblation" should also understand the greatness of the God.

Is there any creed or religion in the world which says that God is undemanding: He does not want to receive anything from you as an offering for Himself? And that is Islam.

Look at Muslims going to mosques every day. They do not take anything as an offering.

They clean the body called "Ablution". Its philosophy is that we should stand and pray before the God who is pure.

At the time of prayer, the mind and body should be pure, and no other offering should be offered to God during the prayer.

Dear reader! A question may arise in your mind. If the Lord does not want the offering, if ones income increases by God's grace - does Islam allow us to taste and enjoy it ourselves?

No, Islam says, “Give the wealth you have received by God’s grace to those poor around you.”

Islam instructs, “You are purified by giving.” This kind of giving is called Zakat. The meaning of the word Zakat is purity!

* It is not allowed to give away as per our wish.

* Islam dictates to spend on poor, needy and good way.

Dear reader!

The main thing you should notice in these messages is that the God of Islam is without any need; the benefactor; He who does not want to offer himself. But, at the same time, he orders that his devotees should give the wealth that he has blessed to others.

Dear Reader! You have been looking for such a God until this day! Right

* Behold - your God
* Behold - your Religion

Never think that “God belongs only to Muslims and that religion belongs only to them”.

Dear Reader, Allah is the God for you, for your family and all the people of the world! His religion is Islam!

We have added yours to you. It is up to you, dear reader, to think about it!

Wisdom 4

Want to leave the old religion?

O pious people!

You may have a doubt. Do I have to give up my old religion if I accept the theory of "One God"? That is the doubt!

Your old religion too had only one God philosophy if you look into it.

Hinduism is based on one deity called Parabraham. Thirumoolar, the oldest of the Tamil Siddhas, has said that "our Clan is One, our God is One" So the old divine principle is not contradictory to One Gid..

Bharatiyar has cursed in his poem the "ignorant man who wanders in search of a thousand gods." Islam does not show such harshness. On the other hand, it says that "God is One".

Many Hindu religious sages, after attaining enlightenment maturity, meditated in forest, mountain, and fertile wilderness and did not worship many deities and worshiped the One God alone.

Worshiping many deities - idols, images etc. is called "mantha jnanam" by Ramalinga Adigal. "Higher gnana" means worshiping the Formless Lord.

Vaishnavism also condemn many deities as can be seen in this statement "devotees of Vaishnavism never worship images even forgetfully".

Even in the Bible, in the Old Testament, there are words that refer to the one God, In the prayer of the Christian church comes the verse "We beseech the God through Jesus Christ."

Thus it can be observed that in all religions the "One God Principle" is a deep stream.

Abandoning polytheism - monotheism is not against your religion.

What's wrong with letting go of the "dull wisdom" mixed in between and admitting to the deep water flow?

Religion is not just about guises and slogans. Trust is the foundation. The purity of that belief is a divine principle.

Thiruvalluvar used to say

Patruka Patratraan Patrinai Appatraip
Patruka Patru Vitark
— (Transliteration)

Cling to the one who clings to nothing; And so clinging, cease to cling.

"Desire the God who has no desire; To desire Him is to let go of our desires"

Manifestations of many deities can be seen only in stories. "Eternal Refuge" is what Islam says "the One God who has no likeness and no need."

The Holy Qur'an does not say that this principle of "One God" was established and propagated in Arabia only by Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him).

The Holy Qur'an recites that a messenger was sent to convey the principles of "One God" to every community in the world. Then many messengers would have come into India and they would have spread a divine principle too.

Eventually decay-necrosis may appear and polytheism may have come. Prophet Mohamed came only when such a principle of "One God" faded away in Arabia itself and worshiped polytheisms.

360 idols were planted inside and outside the Kaaba which was built to worship “One God” in Arabia.

It was at that time when “faded Wisdom” appeared that the Prophet strove to establish the worship of “One God”. Gradually the Arabs abandoned the intervening beliefs and adopted the first - early - monotheistic worship.

Similarly, you are going to abandon the intervening polytheism and embrace monotheism, the primitive faith.

* Like the orphan got the blessing of the ancestors...

* It is like the one who got pure water replacing the dirty water...

* It’s like getting a hairdo for an uncombed person

It is a divine principle to bring a clarity - a solidity - to your already confused faith.

We may be reluctant to let go of the ways of previous generations.

Do we keep the dress, style and manners of that generation the same now? No. Why are we reluctant to accept something true and comfortable and abandon the rest?

Which is earlier? This reluctance is due to confusion. Reluctance goes away when the principle of the previous generation and the previous generation are realized as “a divine principle”.

The next hesitation is Do I need to change everything like dress, figure, food like Muslims if I accept “One God”?

They are all secondary! The first requirement is “belief in a God”. Inwardly, in the heart is the firm principle of “One God.”

So nothing to lose. By accepting the principle of One God” means loss is all dark.

Shall we mourn the loss of darkness?

“One God” means, A divine principle - lightness; The breeze of wisdom, the ladder, the ascent, the correct way for the entire world, for all languages! Think! Be ready to act!

Becoming a Muslim and how to be a Muslim?

What do we need to know?

One can become a Muslim by saying the following affirmation.

“Ashhuthu a(n)lla ilaha illallahu wa ashhuthu anna Muhammad Abduhu wa Rasululuhu”

“I bear witness that there is none worthy of worship but Allah, and that Muhammad (peace be upon him) is the Messenger of Allah.”

Isn’t it the right time to fulfill your life’s purpose, surrender to the truth and accept your Creator?

Shahada (Faith - Pledge)

The first pillar of Islam is to believe and express one’s belief through the 'Shahada' called the 'Kalima'.

Ashhathu a(n)llah ilaha illallahu wa ashathu anna Muhammad Abduhu wazauluhu.

Meaning: I bear witness that there is none worthy of worship but Allah. I bear witness that Muhammad (PBUH) is the servant of Allah and His Messenger.

Affirmation : Ashadhu a(n)llailaha illallahu

The first part of the pledge contains the most important truth that God has bestowed upon the human society, that there is no God worthy of worship except Allah Almighty, which God mentions in the Qur'an;

And We sent not before you any messenger except We revealed to him that, "There is no deity except Me, so worship Me." Quran 21:25

By reciting this Shahada (Kalima) , a Muslim acknowledges that Allah is the Creator of all creations and that He is the supreme authority over every person and every thing in this universe.

By this means, a Muslim draws his heart and soul closer to God by saying that no one is worthy of worship but Allah, and by relying on Him, trusting in Him and devoting his faith, commitment and obedience to Him.

It is contrary to the basic tenets of Islam to worship anything other than God (angels, messengers including Prophet Muhammad (pbuh), religious saints, idols, sun, moon, tree etc.) It is an unforgivable sin unless one repents for it before his death. All forms of worship should be towards Allah, the One Lord.

"Rejection of One God" is the belief not only in man-made gods and goddesses of wood and stone, but also in (other than Islamic principles) superstitions, and worshiping, loving, and obeying religious leaders and thinking that they posses special authority and sanctity.

And Islam rejects astrology, palmistry, fortune-telling, seeking to know hidden things, visiting the graves and memorials of religious scholars and invoking them. it only insist you to Pray directly to Allah

All forms of worship such as prayer, fasting, supplication, seeking refuge, animal sacrifice should be performed for the God.

Engaging in activities that please God, speaking, and doing things that encourage what He has commanded, either directly or collectively, is worship. Therefore, worship is not limited to fulfilling the five duties of Islam. It covers every aspect of life.

If one does something to please the God, like feeding his family, saying a few good words to console another, it is also a form of worship. This means that all worship should be done in a proper manner only for the God.

Affirmation : WA ASHATHUU ANNA MUHAMMADAN ABDUHU WARASULUHU

The meaning of the second part of the pledge is that Muhammad (PBUH) is God's Messenger and His Servant. This implies that one should obey the Prophet's orders and follow them. We should believe in what the Prophet (PBUH) said, his teachings and his practices. Things which are forbidden to do, should avoid them and should only worship God as he taught. His teachings are the revelations given to the Prophet (peace be upon him) by God.

The Prophet (peace be upon him) lived as an example for mankind to follow. So try to follow his life and practices. The God says;

And indeed, you are of a great moral character.
Quran 68:4

And the God says;

There has certainly been for you in the Messenger of Allah an excellent pattern[1] for anyone whose hope is in Allah and the Last Day and [who] remembers Allah often. Quran 33:21

The Prophet (PBUH) was sent to live according to the teachings of the Qur'an in all aspects of life in his words, deeds and actions. When the Prophet's wife Ayesha (RA) was asked about the characteristics of the Prophet, she said, "The Qur'an was his characteristic."

The second part of the Shahatha (Kalima) is that we should follow the Prophet in all aspects of our lives. The God says:

Say, [O Muḥammad], "If you should love Allāh, then follow me, [so] Allah will love you ...." Quran 3:31

".. And whatever the Messenger has given you - take; and what he has forbidden you - refrain from..."
Quran 59:7

Muhammad (PBUH) is the final messenger of God. It also means that there will be no messengers after Muhammad (pbuh), the final messenger of God.

Muḥammad is not the father of [any] one of your men, but [he is] the Messenger of Allāh and seal [i.e., last] of the prophets. And ever is Allāh, of all things, Knowing.
Quran 33:40

Belief in the prophethood of Muhammad (pbuh) includes belief in the guidance and Sunnah (his deeds, sayings) that he brought. It also insists on following his directions faithfully. Prophet Muhammad (pbuh) was a human being.

Although the Prophet (peace be upon him) had pure upright character, extraordinary honesty, unwavering faith in Allah and steadfastness in Islam, he was a Prophet of God. So Muslims do not worship the Prophet.

How do I become a Muslim?

The word Muslim means "one who obeys the will of God". Becoming a Muslim (regardless of race, nationality, clan background) is very easy. It is a simple method without any pre-conditions. One can embrace Islam alone or in the presence of others.

If a person wishes to become a Muslim, if he has conviction and therefore deep faith that Islam is the true religion, he can join Islam without any delay by reciting the "Kalima", the pledge of faith. The Kalima is the first of the five pillars of Islam. One comes to Islam by reciting the Kalima with true faith and devotion.

Try reciting the kalimah (pledge of faith) in Arabic.

“Ashhathu a(n)llailaha illallahu wahtahu la shariqalahu wa ashhathu anna Muhammadan Abduhu Warazuluhu”.

No witness is needed for this event. There is no need to hold a big ceremony for this. Because this is your personal commitment. However if possible it is preferable that you join Islam by saying the Kalima among Muslims who can be witnesses. But do not delay in joining Islam for this or any other reason. After you become a Muslim you must take a bath and pray two rakats.

“Ghusl” is the name given to thoroughly cleaning the whole body by taking a bath with the intention of joining Islam. This is a symbolic act of erasing past mistakes and sins and seeking forgiveness from Allah for the actions that have taken place up to that point.

Forgiveness of past sins

....- and who can forgive sins except Allah? - ...

Quran 3:135

You join Islam purely for God’s will. Your past sins are forgiven and you begin a new life of piety and righteousness. The Prophet (PBUH) said to a person who wanted to join Islam, ‘Your past sins will be forgiven’.

Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him) said: (to a companion) “Do you not know that your joining Islam will erase all your previous sins? (Muslim)

The Prophet (PBUH) said, “If one sincerely accepts Islam, Allah will forgive all his previous sins. After that, the work of reckoning will begin. Every good deed will be rewarded 10 to 700 times. Evil deeds will be recorded only if Allah does not grant forgiveness.” (Buhari)

The Prophet (PBUH) said:

Path of Islam is smooth. Do not burden it and make things difficult. Strive to get closer to perfection to please Allah. Pray in the morning, afternoon and night and benefit. (Bukhari)

If one embraces Islam he regrets his old life and beliefs. One need not worry much about the sins committed before joining Islam. Like a newborn baby in its mother’s womb, his record is clean when he joins Islam.

Importance of following the teachings of Islam

You need to know what it means to be a Muslim and start living according to true Islamic ethics. Both the Qur’an and the Hadith (sayings of the Prophets) emphasize the importance of following Islam.

The God says

Indeed, the religion in the sight of Allah is Islam. Quran 3:19

And whoever desires other than Islām as religion - never will it be accepted from him, and he, in the Hereafter, will be among the losers. Quran 3:85

The Prophet Muhammad (PBUH) said:

There is none worthy of worship but Allah. He is without partner. Muhammad (pbuh) is His Messenger and Servant. Jesus (pbuh) is the Messenger of God the words of God were translated on the Mother Mary and created through it. (God created him by saying "Be" and "it is") Heaven is reality. Hellfire is true, Similarly, whoever testifies accordingly, God will make him enter Paradise according to his deeds. (Buhari)

Whoever witness that there is none worthy of worship but Allah, Allah forbids him from eternal abode in Hellfire. The Prophet (peace be upon him) said.

Some Important Fundamentals of Being a Muslim

Acceptance of righteous deeds (i.e. sahada/confessing to become a Muslim) is based on the fulfillment of the following two conditions.

1 The purpose of doing deeds must be purely for Allah. It should not be done for the sake of fame or praise.

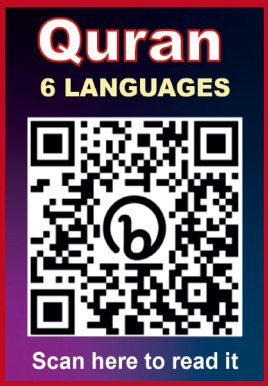

2. All actions must be performed based on the Sunnah (guidance) of the final Messenger of Allah, the Prophet (PBUH).

You are obligated to answer for things you know. You must also take the time to learn the unknown.
If you are not a Muslim, it is incumbent upon you to try to learn about Islam and seek clarification from those who know the religion about things you do not understand in the Islamic religion.

So ask the people of the message if you do not know.
Quran 16:43

Oh! Allah, You are the one who guides. Make them easy to understand your right path! Let them enter your way!

All glory to You! You know better! Good listener.

Who is Prophet Muhammed ?

Say, "I am not something new among the messngers, nor do I know what will be done with me or with you. I only follow that whcih is revealed to me, and I am no but a clear warner.
