Preface

As technology grows, the search within man is increasing. I must somehow find out the True God worthy to be worshiped. The human mind thinks often this way by seeing different Religions, method of worships and it keeps telling each and every time that it is possible to find it. Part of the answers to our questions comes from time to time through healthy interactions, social media, through books and It continues...

- Who is the True God we are looking for?
- What is the Truth?
- Why this worldly life?
- How should we live in this world?
- When are we going to find out all this?
- Is there a need for all these thinking?
- Will I have time for these in my daily busy life? Or
- Can I be blind to these arising questions? Or
- Can I just ignore it and move on?

Do you often think this way?

Excellent! You are thinking on the right track.

You are going to read about the answers, the benefits, the pleasures, and above all, the peace of mind that these people got it from their true search, who often thought, struggled, wandered, searched, persevered, analyzed, and found answers.

It will help you to take a clear path, to do further research and make better decisions.

This book is a small attempt to bring together the searchers and the searched people in different situations and times.

Read on and let the truth you seek attracts you through it!

Satish kumar

My name is Satish Kumar. Five years ago I have searched in youtube to watch Ramayana. Then I came across a video on YouTube titled Similarities of Hinduism and Islam. In it the principle of Islam (Oneness of God) and the principle of Hinduism in the Vedas (One God) are same and also I saw in that video that Prophet Muhammad is the incarnation of Kalki. Because of this, I began to learn more about Hinduism and the Vedas clearly state that there is only one God in it, and I became more interested in realising that Islam's principles are also the same. Ultimately I realised that the Holy Quran is the ultimate scripture of all scriptures.

Thus, I tried to read the Holy Quran in its entirety and found out that the supreme God of Hinduism and the God of Islam are one and the same. Realising that the final prophet or final Rishi is Prophet Muhammad, I bowed down to God and that is Islam.

Truth is crystal clear for any one in search of it. Go forth and read Quran.

Madan Balaji

My birth name was Madan Balaji. Belonging to the Brahmin caste, I was somewhat involved in spirituality. A few years ago, I was talking to a friend about religion and God. Then I realized that he too was a Hindu converted to Islam. So I discussed with him and he had detailed his journey towards search of true God and ended up in reading Quran and embraced Islamic faith of Monotheism. Then I asked him for a Tamil translation of Holy Quran. I wanted to know what is in it.

While reading the Quran simultaneously I wanted to know what the Vedas says and principles of Hinduism as well. Then I also read the scriptures in Christianity. I was quite shocked to realize that there was a certain principle common in all and learned the fact that they have been worshiping the only one God since the time of the First man, Adam. I was very surprised to see that the Quran talks about Jesus and there is a chapter about Mary and I noticed the connection between the Hindu scriptures and the Bible and the Quran. It was foretold in all the scriptures i.e. Vedas, Bible, Torah etc. that the last Prophet is Prophet Muhammad and the final scripture is the Holy Quran, I bowed down to God.

Also I have understood that Allah is not a separate GOD and it is an Arabic word for God since Quran was revealed in Arabic language.

It was an eye opening for me to interact with my friend who opened the door for right faith for me.

Whosoever read this message , I urge him/her to read Quran and have a dialogue with your muslim friend which will lead you to correct faith/religion.

Kiran

My name was Kiran. I belong to Telugu Brahmin caste. I had a Muslim friend. He was my closest friend since childhood and his actions and habits raised many questions for me. Also, I tend to know more about it. After many explanations I came to know that God is one as stated in Quran and Islam is the religion which has perfected the life's solutions . My heart inclined towards Islam and I have embraced it..

If You too looking for a true God to worship, read Quran and the rest Quran will take care of it.

Amarnath

My name was Amarnath and I fell in love with a Muslim girl many years ago. She loved me too. We had decided to run away from home and get married. But before that she asked me to become a Muslim.

I don't understand what to do to become a Muslim. Then I wanted to know about Islam. I have read Holy Quran completely in Tamil. Language. I lost myself in its content.

Then I realized how big of a mistake I was to fall in love with that girl. After making her realize how wrong (haram - forbidden) she had done (In Islam if a girl likes a boy, she has to go through her Father or Care taker to formalise the proposal, not allowed to run away with him), I left her and my love.

I started loving Islam more than that woman and completely surrendered myself to Allah (Arabic word for God) and accepted Islam.

I thank Allah that through an unwanted incident he has given (chosen) me the knowledge of Islam and worshiping Oneness of God who have created the entire universe.

I urge all those who is in search of real God, please get a copy of Quran translation in your mother tongue and start reading it immediately, rest the message will take care of it.

Abhimanyu

Iam Abhimanyu and Iam studying Masters in Public Health in SRM Chennai. I did my undergraduate in Madurai and at that time it was my second year, I came to know about Haram and Halal (Do's & Don'ts) in Islam. It's basically things which are Allowed and Prohibited in Islam and after some time I understood many things about it and in that I saw many things which are prohibited (Haram) in Islam is either Directly or Indirectly harming me and allowed (Halal) things are improving my life and giving peace.

At this Juncture, I had decided I should not worship any god as because we are thought to do it by our Parents instead we should do a research about this then only we should come to a conclusion which is best, true , suitable and reliable.

And I have decided until I get the answer for this I should not worship any god and I became an Atheist. For this I gone though all the Religious Book (Vedas, Bible, Quran) and I listen many Lectures, read many Articles and it took me years, at the end I can see in all aspects like historically , morally , ethically , scientifically Islam is the best. Then I reverted to Islam, started following it peacefully and changed my name to Khalid now.

If you are a seeker of True God, just pick up a Quran and read.

Logeshvaran

I was Logeshvaran once and I was born and brought up in a Hindu family who used to worship more than 1,50,000 gods without knowing who should we actually worship.

With this unclear situation, I lost my faith and hope in gods and I lived as an Atheist for last few years and later when I came to SRM University in Chennai where you can't find any culture or any sort of religious environment.

But I was amazed by some of the Muslims students the way they fear Allah (God in Arabic language) and act according to Quran in discipline. I was just amazed by them and later I started some research about Islam and then I came to know that Islam Is The True Religion And Allah Is The One True God And Allah Is Only One Who Is Worthy Of Worship And There Is No Comparison For Him. And Allah Found Me And Guided Me" In The Right Path "One Can Revert To Islam Only If Allah Wills" and I finally made my mind and ready to accept Islam .

Just two days before the holy month Ramadan this year I reverted to Islam and changed my name to Bilal. From then till the end of my life my only aim is to DO ALL MY PRAYERS TO PLEASE ONLY ALLAH and DIE AS MUSLIM AND ENTER PARADISE.

Do the needed research if you are a seeker of True Religion and one must start his/her research with Quran.

Elumalai

I am a Hindu Vanniya Kula Chatriya and I have studied BA English in Govt.Anna Arts College, Villupuram but discontinued

I had faith in Hindu Gods. I was an ardent Perumal devotee and have dressed like Anjaneya and danced with the bhajan groups. I have gone with the bhajan groups to local and other places. I have been to Tirupati once by foot from Villupuram and traveled by train six times.

I have been to Sabarimalai once by the major route and another time by the minor route. The major route means, you have to cross huge mountain, forest, the valley by single footed path and visiting Ayyappan was very difficult. Because in some places where tigers are also active, if you slip your foot on a single track with a huge ravine near it, you will die.

Dimithi, I have stepped on fire many times during festivals Thus I was steeped in the superstitions of the age of ignorance in Hinduism.

Achieving Awareness

1. I have got a chance to watch Mr. Sirpi Nagan on YouTube channel who have clearly explained about Hindu festivals and its superstitions. This was an eye opener for me.

2. I got to know a little about the intrigues and uprisings of the Brahmins.

3. I am one of those people who misunderstood Muslims after watching Vishwarupam movie multiple times.

4. Learned through EVR Periyar's speech, Islam is the best medicine for caste discrimination

5. Dr. Ambedkar said, "To be born a Hindu is no crime but to die as Hindu is the greatest crime and leaving Hinduism."

6. I like Mr. Palani Baba's sacrifice, dedication and truthfulness

7. I got to know a lot of explanations through the questions and answers program of Islam is a beautiful religion by Mr..P. Jainul Abideen (PJ).

As far as I know, there is no such open questions and answers program in any religion. This alone is a proof of its authenticity.

I was fascinated that through all these things "God is One" and the Religion for all the people in the world is Islam.

I have accepted Islam and changed my name to Ahmed. All praise be to Allah who gave me this religion of Islam.

My request to those who read this is, to read "Quran and It will enlighten you to straight path.

Dr. Jeffrey Lang

The first 18 years of his life were spent in Catholic schools, which left him with many unanswered questions. Like most kids back in the late 60s and early 70s, I started questioning all the values that we had at those times, political, social and religious I rebelled against all the institutions that society held sacred, including the Catholic Church.

BECOMING AN ATHEIST

By the time he reached the age of 18, Lang had become a full-fledged atheist.

"If there is a God, and He is all merciful and all loving, then why is there suffering on this earth? Why does not He just take us to heaven? Why create all these people to suffer?" Such were the questions that came up in his mind in those days.

FINDING GOD IN ISLAM

As a young lecturer in mathematics at San Francisco University, USA, Lang found his religion where God is finally a reality. That was shown to him by a few of the Muslim friends he had met at the university. "We talked about religion. I asked them my questions, and I was really surprised by how carefully they had thought out their answers," Lang said.

Dr. Lang met Mahmoud Qandeel, a regal looking Saudi student who attracted the attention of the entire class the moment he walked in. When Lang asked a question about medical research, Qandeel answered the question in perfect English and with great elf assurance. Everyone knew Qandeel – the mayor, the police chief and the common people.Together the professor and the student went to all the glittering places where "there was no joy or happiness, only laughter." Yet at the end, Qandeel surprisingly gave him a copy of the Quran and some books on Islam.

Lang read the Quran on his own, found his way to the student-run prayer hall at the university, and basically surrendered without much struggle. He was conquered by the Quran. The first two chapters are an account of that encounter and it is a fascinating one. "Painters can make the eyes of a portrait appear to be following you from one place to another, but which author can write a scripture that anticipates your daily vicissitudes?…

Each night I would formulate questions and objections and somehow discover the answer the next day.

It seemed that the author was reading my ideas and writing in the appropriate lines in time for my next reading. I have met myself in its pages…"

Lang performs the daily five-time prayers regularly and finds much spiritual satisfaction. He finds the Fajr (pre-dawn) prayer as one of the most beautiful and moving rituals in Islam. To the question how he finds it so captivating when the recitation of the Quran is in Arabic, he responds: "Why is a baby comforted by his mother's voice?"

SPIRITUAL GROWTH

He said reading the Quran gave him a great deal of comfort and strength in difficult times. From there, faith was a matter of practice for Lang's spiritual growth.

Lang has written several Islamic books which are best sellers among the Muslim community in the US. One of his important books is "Even Angels ask; A Journey to Islam in America". In this book, Dr. Lang shares with his readers the many insights that have unfolded for him through his self discovery and progress within the religion of Islam.

KS Kirish Udupa

I was born and brought up in an upper class Hindu Brahmin family of priests in Udupi, Karnataka, a city known for its temples. My learning of Hindu scriptures commenced at an early age through a teacher where I noticed many contradictions and began questioning but could not get any satisfying answers nor the meaning of the scriptures. Such a beginning early in life made me search for the truth about right religion.

Owing to my persistent questions, my parents on the advice of religious heads transferred me to an Aashram, to become a Hindu priest. After joining the Aashram, my doubts and questions increased to which my teachers had no answers. I was advised to read books from the library to know the answers and hence I got an opportunity to read a lot of Hindu scriptures. With no satisfaction in life and unable to get proper answers to the doubts being built up in mind, I left the Ashram and started learning about Jainism and later Buddism but neither had any answers to my questions.Interestingly, Jainism and Buddism advocate 'ahimsa' (non-violence) but both are responsible in increasing idol worship.

I left them and started to search the oldest religion and learned about a religion of Romans, Greeks, Egyptian, and Judaism. When I was studying Judaism I could not find the much fundamental difference between Jews and Brahmins.

I continued to enjoy my life till one day while commuting by bus to the office, I saw a hoarding with the message "For a free copy of Qur'an please contact…." a thought came to mind that this could be another book like Bible. However, I decided to call them and get a copy of the Qur'an so that I can read Qur'an to find mistakes and make fun of Muslims. To finally get my copy of the Qur'an, I had to call the center 3 times in 9 months, but the third time I was little angrier and finally, the Qur'an reached me. Alhamdulillah.

I began reading the Qur'an with the intention to find fault in it but amazingly started to get answers to my questions one by one as if the Qur'an is answering and clearing all my doubts. Although I decided to read at least four pages every day and to complete it quickly, to the shock of my life, I could barely read more than half a page daily. As I moved on, I started getting answers to all my queries;

- why am I here,?
- why I was created,?
- what is the purpose of life,?

and by the Grace of Almighty Allah I was getting closer to Qur'an and my Creator. The brother who gave the Qur'an would call and ask whether I am reading the Qur'an. One day he asked me to perform Salah (prayer) with him and I refused.

However, we started meeting very often to discuss over coffee/juice on Islam. One day while having juice, he asked me a question; if he dies now, before completely drinking the juice, he might enter paradise because he is a Muslim as he tried to follow the commandments of Allah. What would I do if I die before I finish my juice, because, there is no guarantee of lifespan for anyone? I was shocked for a while and could not drink the juice and felt as if I am going to die any moment. I went home, sincerely prayed to Almighty Allah for the first time in my life that if I die today please forgive my sins and slept. When I got up in the morning I was afresh and deciding not to waste more time, called the brother and informed him that I would like to accept Islam. In fact with the discussion of the previous evening, Allah opened my heart to truth and thought that accepting Islam would be a big function like in Hinduism.

The brother called me to the center and in front of two people, asked me to declare in Arabic and English the "Shahada" — La ilaha ill Allah Muhammadur-Rasul Allah."I bear witness that there is no God but Allah and that Prophet Muhammad is his Messenger (peace be upon him)".I swear by Allah that when I took the Shahada, I felt an amazing sensation as if a huge, physical weight had just been lifted off my chest; I gasped for breath as if I was breathing for the first time in my life.

Alhamdulillah, by reverting to Islam, my journey to find the true religion ended with immense pleasure, happiness and utmost satisfaction. My name is Muhammad Ishaq now

I want to convey one humble message to all those who are looking for a true God and religion. It is only when you take the pain of learning about all religions, you will know the beauty of Islam. The message of Oneness of God Almighty in its Purity and the way of life taught and practiced by Prophet Muhammad (May Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) as Islam is the only way of life which could keep you pleased with your existence as a human being.

Aamaiyadi Mahesh

My brother asked while going to church one Sunday. If everything is God's work means Whose work is robbery and rape? I asked the church father exactly what my brother had asked, but he did not give any answer, instead he said, "Don't be with your brother." What business do I have where there is no answer? Yes, that was the last Sunday I went to church. I was 14 years old when this happened. From then on, my journey as an atheist along with my brother began.

He gave me books to read. Periyar was the first person he introduced to me. I started my reading from Periyar . Fascinated by his thoughts, I started talking to my friends and school teachers about the denial of God. After Periyar he also introduced Ambedkar and after I started reading Ambedkar or listening to Ambedkar daily, through him the question about religions and God started to arise in me. When the question came to me as to why Ambedkar, who denied God, embraced Buddhism, I was 17.

My brother would say a lot about Ambedkar and Buddhism. One day my brother started telling me about Islam which is different from the Islam that I had heard till then. It is "Equality". Here I read more about Islam

My school headmaster Sanurdeen is also one of the reasons my affection towards Islam as his personal disciplined lifestyle always raises a question in me how this is possible only by him? Then I left everything and wandered in Chennai in search of film opportunities, "Sayed" joined me as my roommate, to tell the truth, it was him I once again spoke or read about the high religion of Islam by myself. Syed is 5 years younger than me. He would not lie, he would not do anything untruthful, he would pray five times in that small room where we stayed, he would always be kind, there would be a virtue in whatever he did. His action surprised me. This is a trait I saw in my head master. This was the beginning of my re-reading about Islam. When I quit cinema and joined Thekkady, I got a younger brother "Haseeb" another Syed in all aspects of prayer and virtue. What amazes me time and again is how they are so virtuous at such a young age. Haseeb's friendship took me to their house and what I saw there made me even more surprised not only Haseeb but also his family. After knowing that Islam is built on virtue, morality and equality, I firmly decided that the religion I had been searching for all these days is Islam.

I converted to Islam by saying Tirukalima (declaration of faith) in the courtyard of my brother Haseeb's house in Thekkady and started my new life as Abdullah after receiving basic religious education in the Brotherhood Social Justice Council run by Abdul Rab Asad – Madurai.

All I want to say to muslim brothers is only one thing, if the life of two brothers and the life of a family made me accept Islam, then I leave you the question of what will happen on this earth when the life of the Prophet and the Holy Quran, is strictly followed by all.

I say to those who seek God, seek to read the Quran and the biography of the Prophet and you will find answers to your questions.

SIVAJI RAO

I was Sivaji Rao, a Hindu and I would like to share my story with you all. Perhaps, this would make a difference for non-Muslims to really think about the truth.

My Background: I come from a middle class orthodox Brahmin family. My mother is a teacher and my father works as a textile engineer. My religious education was at my maternal uncle's place. That's why I became an orthodox Hindu. Also, my whole family's education was always against Muslims, which was nailed in me deeply.

I was associated with RSS for few years; I hated Muslims to the extent that, in all public functions, I wanted to give high volume for music sound boxes to ensure that the Adhan (call for prayer) should not be heard at all. I used to go round the town visiting all temples to complete my everyday worship. I was liked, appreciated in my family for being orthodox and encouraged to do more.

My Meeting with Islam

In the summer, my mother asked me to work for a Muslim business firm, which I refused because from my childhood background about Muslims. My mother did not force me on this. I worked few summers with a non-Muslim, so I was able to satisfy my parents. Later, I quit that part time job because I did not like it and started concentrating more on studies aiming at a better job. Meantime, my mother and sisters worked for two months in part time for this Muslim. They were highly impressed with him. I hated this person because I did not like the fact that they were praising a Muslim whom I always detested. I was pushed and insulted for not being useful to the family, so I started working for the same Muslim person though I hated him before going to him.

After getting in his shop, I started hating him more because the non-Muslim employees of that shop embraced Islam. I took this challenge to teach him a lesson claiming that my religion is true, and from there, I started doing comparative study. By now, I was always eager to know more about Islam. I started reading English translation of the Glorious Qur'an (by `Abdullah Yusuf `Ali). This changed my entire student life. I was stuck with fear and doubts. I realized the fact that everything that I'm doing is wrong. My religion is all about imaginations, myths and false stories. I had many questions like where am I heading to?, what should I do?, what is my duty?, why has the message of truth not reached all of us? Many questions came to my mind and my entire student life went in this hunt of truth. I started questioning my parents and people around me; who has seen God?, the Almighty, to paint or make images of God? All answered me that none has seen God, which is as true as mentioned in many places in the Glorious Qur'an.

Finally, some mythological stories broke my faith down. The stories of Ganesha, Chamundeswari, Ram, Sita etc., did not make sense to me. I could no longer imagine them as gods. When I questioned my parents that Vedas are against idol worship, and why do we still practice it? My mother scolded me saying, "We are supposed to do it as our forefathers have been doing it." The next day I read a verse in the Glorious Qur'an in Surah Al Baqarah which reads:

When it is said to them: "Follow what Allah has sent down." They say: "Nay! We shall follow what we found our fathers following." (Would they do that!) even though their fathers did not understand anything nor were they guided? (Al-Baqarah 2:170)

And Allah Almighty says:

That was a nation who has passed away. They shall receive the reward of what they earned and you of what you earn. And you will not be asked of what they used to do. (Al-Baqarah 2:134)

When I read this, I was shocked to see something which I just questioned my mother last night. This ayah (verse) hit me right deep inside. I slowly stopped worshipping idols, and stopped doing Pooja, since shirk (Polytheism) is the only sin which will never be forgiven. I started practicing the teachings of Islam in secret. There were few quotes from the Glorious Qur'an in which Allah says:

This day, I have perfected your religion for you, completed My Favor upon you, and have chosen for you Islam as your religion. (Al-Ma'idah 5:3)

I realized that the answers of all the questions that I have in my mind are in the Qur'an.

By the grace of Allah, I started conveying message of Allah at my home with the little knowledge I had. I wanted to complete my B.E. and I thought that conveying the truth would make it easy in the long run for me and my family. Yet, after my final year of diploma, I was pushed to the wall. Then, the time came where I had no choice but to quit my family. My sister also embraced Islam and joined me. My name is now Muhammed Umar Rao. We had to live out of our house for more than a year without a job or regular source of income. Alhamdulillah, Allah made our ways easy to be firm on the truth.

As Allah says in the Glorious Qur'an:

Do people think that they will be left alone because they say: 'We believe,' and will not be tested. (Al-`Ankabut 29:2)

After a while, praise be to Allah, Allah opened doors of opportunities for us. I had quit my previous job as I was unable to perform my five times prayer. By the Grace of Allah, now I'm blessed with a better Job. By the Grace of Allah, Almighty He has chosen us to the right path, there's nothing more required.

I have narrated my story to two brothers, Alhamdulillah, they were convinced that my decision and choice is an excellent option. They started reading the Glorious Qur'an and also embraced Islam few days later. Whosoever Allah guides no one can mislead him.``

Shiva Shanmugam

My name was Shiva Shanmugam and this name was given to me because my parents were devotees of Shiva. We belong to the Nayak community of the Satriya Dynasty in Hinduism.

My introduction to Islam at the age of 23 came from my street friends while studying PG. However, I was a drinker and some of my muslim friends who were drinking along with me suddenly gave up the habit. When I asked the reason, they said, we were wrong by drinking it and it is haram, an act forbidden by Allah (Arabic word for God).

With the stubborn counter argument, I said to my muslim friends that this world is for a fun life, so you people need to give me liquor treatment for your (Eid) festival.

In response to my argument one of my muslim friends said, if you drink alcohol in this world, the Lord who created us will burn your body with a fire that is 70 times hotter in our life after death and give you to drink the pus that flows from it and you should be ready for it. Just by hearing this, it scared me a lot.

Two days after this, those friends came to me and gave me the Qur'an and told me that there is only one God who created and sustains us all, He is Allah. And Prophet Muhammad was the last Messenger chosen by God. I didn't fully understand it and just shook my head, ok, ok. After this incident, I went out of my friends' sight for a week.

The next time they met, they asked me to read some verses in the Quran. especially the effects of liquor and certain creations; The Lord had made clear innumerable signs about the Camel, about the Bees, and about the destruction of the elephants' paws to become like straw that they have chewed and spat out etc. etc. After this, I learned a lot of things and got clarity through reading the Quran continuously, through friends and through questions and answers program.

By reading Quran continuously I realized that Allah (Arabic word for God) is the creator of all of us, Islam is the path given by Allah, and Prophet Muhammad is our life guide. I felt that it would be difficult to follow Islam if I am in my locality (my home town), so I came to Chennai and accepted Islam and changed my name to Muhammad Sulaiman.

My message to those who reading this testimony is that "Quran" is the only book that will answer all the questions in your heart. So try to get it first, read it and get clarity. Understand the meaning of this worldly life. You will be completely happy! You will also go to heaven in the afterlife once you follow.

Senthil Kumar

My old name was Senthilkumar How did I get to know Islam?

I found Islam through my friend, my roommate was a Christian. One day I saw a book on the table, titled “Is it One God? or Multiple Gods?.” in Tamil Language. Title attracted me very much and I started reading it immediately. I read few pages and kept it. Whenever I have time, it Becomes a habit to pick up that book and read it. I read it multiple times the entire book. It was so clear. Who is God? What is He like? How can God be given form? Who saw it? All these questions arise and each of the question made me think deeply, my search for Islam deepened.

Can it be like this? i.e. you have a separate God? and I have a separate God? The earth we live in is one, the sky above us is one, but how can the God who created these and such things be different Gods? The following Quranic verses clarified it for me

Say, “Who provides for you from the heaven and the earth? Or who controls hearing and sight and who brings the living out of the dead and brings the dead out of the living and who arranges [every] matter?” They will say, “Allāh,” so say, “Then will you not fear Him?” Quran 10:31

(Allah means Arabic word for God since the Quran was revealed in Arabic.)

Many verses like this made me think. Then I understood that Islam can be the right religion and only if you follow it you can go to heaven.

Then I found a phone number given at the back of the book and I contacted the Person Brother Yousuf and accepted Islam as my way of life. My present name is Abdul Rahim. Alhamdulillah

If you are also in search of the true God, pick up a Qur'an translation and keep reading it and it will complete your quest. Do this as a priority and you will understand the beauty of life in this world. Clarity will arise.

Helena Brigitte

My name is Helena Brigitte, here is my story.

It all started with the news. Islamic terrorist groups started to pop up in the news after a round of terror attacks all over the world. “It’s Islam’s fault”, they said. I thought to myself, “Who’s Islam?”. Yes, “who”. I had literally no knowledge about religion at all, not even Christianity. I have a half brother who’s family is Jewish, my mother’s side who’s Christian/ atheist and my father’s side who’s Christian/atheist as well.My parents didn’t see the point of teaching us religion or letting us grow up somewhat religiously. Although, my mother did read from the Bible to my youngest brother, Deen. It’s funny because I have four brothers and three of us have Arabic first or middle names!

HATING ISLAM

And so I started to hate Islam because of these horrible Muslims killing innocent people here and there for no reason whatsoever. I dragged my best friend at the time into this, and she quickly hated Islam as well. We Snapchatted each other, with pictures of ourselves, drew on some long black beards and a mono-brow, and wrote stuff like “I’m from Iraq” (like, really). We even made Instagram accounts where we posed in niqab/ hijab and made fun of the headgear. I called her Yousef because her name was similar to it, and she called me Habiba, which was similar to my name at the time. We acted as husband and wife, and joked around about how Yousef was going to abuse me if I showed too much skin in public. We screamed "Allahu akbar!" at each other on the streets, for everyone to hear, and it wasn't even a negative thing but to us it was funny as hell. I think you get the picture. Both me and her were very disrespectful towards Islam and Muslims, even though we had never even seen or met properly with a Muslim.

DEEP SEARCHING

But in secret, I started looking up Islam online when I was still harassing the religion. I came across a nasheed called "Allahu" by Labbayk, and totally fell in love with it. Then I listened to another nasheed. And another, and another. Then I started actually reading about the religion itself. "God is One, Muhammad is the last messenger, pray five times a day towards Mecca, fast…" It didn't seem all too exciting at first but little did I know, this was the beginning of my path towards Islam.

Eventually, after reading so much about the religion, I became tired of harassing it. In secret, I was slowly falling in love with Islam, but there was no way I could ever tell anyone that. After all, I was only 15 years old. I planned a fight (not physical) with my best friend at the time, because she had been a bad influence on me ever since I met her, so I wanted to get rid of her. My plan worked out perfectly, and she got mad at me – just like I wanted. I then blocked her everywhere. I moved to another town, started at a new school where I didn't know a single person, and moved out of the house.

MEETING A MUSLIM

On my first day of high school, I saw my name on the class list and walked to the room where I had to be at and meet with my class and teacher. I walked in and I immediately saw a Muslimah with hijab on. She was so cute and little, but I was still just a little bit skeptical. We exchanged Facebook and numbers immediately anyway, though. That's how I got to know her. I paid attention to what she said, always listening to her and staring at her in admiration. I also visited her, met up with her in my spare time and slept at her house. Slowly but surely I started to open up, and asked her questions about Islam: Why do you wear the hijab? Why do you pray? Don't you say Bismillah before eating? Can I see the Quran?… I thought she would pick up that I was interested, but she didn't ever ask me if I was, so I thought it was normal for her, and that a lot of her non-Muslim friends had questions about Islam. A year went by, and our first and only year at the same school together was over. It was summer, which meant I would be taking a trip to my home country, the Netherlands. I was there for two months. I had been in touch with a Moroccan Muslim living there for a couple of months, and in the summer we decided to meet up. And so we did. We ate out together, went for walks, went to parks, shopping, museums, and once in a while, we would talk about Islam.

After that week, on a Sunday, I called my Muslim friend who I'd got to know the first year. I told her it was totally necessary to meet up today. She took the bus from where she lived and met me at the mall. We walked to a river nearby. It was beautiful. The weather was great, it was warm, there were people walking outside, mountains as our view. It was just perfect. I had written down a verse from the Quran on my notes on my phone. It read "there is no compulsion in religion". I was so nervous about what I was going to tell her, that I couldn't even do it myself, my phone had to do it for me. So I showed her this verse, and asked her "do you know what I'm trying to tell you?". She immediately said "no", and I asked her to think twice. I think it took her two or three minutes before she said: "do you want to become a Muslim?". I smiled big time, nodded my head and said "yes". I then brought my both of my hands up to cover my eyes as I started crying. She started to cry as well. She looked up the conditions on her phone on how to do it, if we needed to be somewhere special, stuff like that. We both put our finger to the air, and I repeated after her. "Ash hadu an la ilaha ila Allah, wa ash hadu anna Muhammadan abduhu wa rasoolohu".

We're still good friends to this day, and we will meet up this Friday, in sha'Allah. One thing I'll never forget is when we sat on a bench in the middle of the city, and she said:

“I hope we’ll go to Jannah together”.

I changed my name on the 23rd of October in 2017 to Safia. I converted to Islam three weeks after my 17th birthday, which was on the 28th of August in 2016. It has not even been two years, but I learned a lot. I’m a wife now, have been since December 24th, 2017, Alhamdulillah.

So, if you are in search for Truth (God/Religion), write down all your queries/questions and either you ask any learned Muslim or start reading the Quran. You will certainly find it.

Vasuki

The change brought in a house by the Qur'an

After finishing the cooking, the woman sat on the chair thinking of taking rest. Saw a thick book on the table, grabbed and flipped through it. While reading the book, some things she was able to understand it and some things not, so she kept it back.

Of the things she understood it from the book was forcing her to read it again so she opens the book again.

As it had happened earlier, it happened again the same - portion of it can getting into her mind while other part not, so she kept it back.

This way, days passed, weeks passed and few months have passed after that she understands the following things clearly in her mind.

1. What we are worshiping now is not the true deity.
2. We are wrong in our 'way of life'.
3. We must worship only One God "who created the entire universe.
4. We should follow the Do's and Dont's as God commanded strictly.
5. There is a life after we die in which there is heaven and hell. She felt that only by following God's command can we go to heaven, and if we spend our lives in the present condition, we will go to hell only.

The woman who read the book and felt the above was over 30 years old and her name is "Vasuki" and she have a child.

This is what happened in her house.

The book she read was Quran and it was her husband who got it as 'free gift' from somewhere and the husband who brought it to home puts it on the table like everyone does. The next day, after her husband has gone to office and the child to school, after finishing her cooking, the woman accidentally picks up the Quran on the table and flips its pages.

The woman who has been reading the Quran every day finally thinks of embracing "Islam" as her "way of life".

But the husband who bought it as a gift had never read the Quran and not even a page.

However, the lady who felt that the principles and ideas she had read in Quran were true, and told her husband that she should accept Islam immediately.

The woman who realized the truth clearly, persistently embraces Islam with her child finally. Then her life continues firmly on the same principle of Quran with many good changes.

Vasuki's suggestion is, it is our duty to bring God's scripture (Quran) to the people directly. The Qur'an will do the rest (according to the will of the Creator). The above event is a testimony that it is God who makes changes possible in any way!

The question is, are you making the right effort? Those who want to understand the truth about God and the purpose of our existence in this world, should read the Quran once, Vasuki reiterates

Kannan

My Journey in Search of True God

We, a family of seven who are steeped in the faith of Hindu Gods every day through temples, pooja and tiruvilakku etc. We are from Kayalpattinam, Tuticorin District where Muslims are the majority,.

I, Kannan, who watches serials like Ramayana and Mahabharata as an act of worship and am in the habit of going to Ganesha (Pillaiyar) temple every day. Even though I was so pious, I often had the thought that these things we worship are of a statue made of a huge rock, a stone.

However, this type of thought that comes to me often could have also come to the scholars who are more educated than us in Hinduism. If they are not bothered about worshiping idols out of carved stones, why should I care, so I made up my mind to console myself.

In the meantime, none of my prayers/requests to Ganesha (Pillayar) whom I love and adore are being fulfilled, I went to my mother and complained because I prayed (to Ganesha) for days and months and not a single request was made.

Immediately mother said, in this case, change your worship to “Murugan”, saying that Murugan is more powerful than Ganesha (pillayar), then my salutation turns to Murugan. Here also nothing happened with my prayers/requests to Murugan then I have started worshiping "Narayanan" as per my mother's advice. As there was no result from Narayanan too, I was ordered by mother to fast for "Ayyappan" and go to Sabarimalai. There was also not being satisfied.

I had a fear that none of my request/prayer is getting fulfilled. Is this because Iam leaving one god and worshiping the other?, it ran into my mind that the former is preventing me from getting, so I started worshiping all gods. Nothing is happening though.

Meanwhile, a room in our house is full of photos of different types of gods. As I was frustrated, my mother too got frustrated, who worshiped all of them with heartfelt devotion, but not got any benefit out of her request to them. So she called me one day and asked me to take all the photos, tie them in a sack and throw them in the sea. I did it accordingly. This happened not once, three times happened at certain Intervals.

Meanwhile, due to some compulsion, our whole family came to work in the leather export company that our villager had in Vellore.

The Muslim boss of the company comes to the factory three days a week and when he comes, he gets up at 5 in the morning for early morning prayer. As the boss gets up early in the morning, all the workers get up without exception. I also woke up. On one such day he left immediately after the prayer. Then I went to the place where they were praying and took a Tamil translation of the Qur'an that was there and flipped it at random. I have got stucked with the following verses.

Quran 21:52-67

When he (Abraham) said to his father and his people, "What are these statues to which you are devoted?"

They said, "We found our fathers worshippers of them."

He said, "You were certainly, you and your fathers, in manifest error."

They said, "Have you come to us with truth, or are you of those who jest?"

He said, "[No], rather, your Lord is the Lord of the heavens and the earth who created them, and I, to that, am of those who testify.

And [I swear] by Allāh, I will surely plan against your idols after you have turned and gone away."

So he made them into fragments, except a large one among them, that they might return to it [and question].

They said, “Who has done this to our gods? Indeed, he is of the wrongdoers.”

They said, “We heard a young man mention them who is called Abraham.”

They said, “Then bring him before the eyes of the people that they may testify.”[1]

They said, “Have you done this to our gods, O Abraham?”

He said, “Rather, this - the largest of them - did it, so ask them, if they should [be able to] speak.”

So they returned to [blaming] themselves and said [to each other], “Indeed, you are the wrongdoers.”

Then they reversed themselves,[1] [saying], “You have already known that these do not speak!”

He said, “Then do you worship instead of Allāh that which does not benefit you at all or harm you?

Uff[1] to you and to what you worship instead of Allāh. Then will you not use reason?”

I was happy to see that the above Quranic verses were a direct answers to my long-standing frustrations and questions. (I came to know later that Abraham mentioned in these verses is a messenger of God and he lived about 6000 years ago) Through these verses it has become evident that the idols we have been worshiping are not true gods. Then this Qur'an which explains the above so clearly, should say, who is the real God? Yes, in the following verses clearly clarified that too.

Quran 112:1-4

Say, "He is Allāh, [who is] One,[1]

Allāh, the Eternal Refuge.[1]

He neither begets nor is born,

Nor is there to Him any equivalent."

Further, it says

Quran 2 : 255

Allāh - there is no deity except Him, the Ever-Living,[1] the Self-Sustaining.[2] Neither drowsiness overtakes Him nor sleep. To Him belongs whatever is in the heavens and whatever is on the earth. Who is it that can intercede with Him except by His permission? He knows what is [presently] before them and what will be after them,[3] and they encompass not a thing of His knowledge except for what He wills. His Kursī[4] extends over the heavens and the earth, and their preservation tires Him not. And He is the Most High,[5] the Most Great.[6]

By these it is clear that it is only One God (not separate gods) who created us and the entire Universe. The word Allah is nothing but an Arabic word for God. I was more surprised to know that why the Arabic word Allah is used by people all over the world, because the word does not have masculine, feminine or plural.

I read the Quran by standing for almost an hour in the prayer hall. Then I had requested the incharge over there that I need it to study for two days, he said, take it.

I brought the Qur'an to the house and called all my family members to sit and asked them to listen the verses I have read and to give opinion. There after I discussed with my family members and consulted about it and finally we are all agreed to embrace Islam wholeheartedly. My current name is Niyas. After that, for three months, the whole family joined an Islamic course to learn more about Islam and increase our knowledge. All praise be to God!

I have presented in detail to the readers the way I had searched for True God and the way I found the true God I sought.

Before I finish, ask yourself the following four questions:

1. Who is God? And why has he created this world?

2. What we (humans) were created for?

3. Are we left to live in this world as we please? Or have we been shown the way to live like this?

4. What happens after we die?

The answers to these and any question that may still arise in you, the Qur'an will easily answer.

Quran is a miracle given to us through Prophet Mohammed (sal) by the Creator of this entire Universe. The Book will unmistakably answers those who seek the truth.

With these Testimonials...

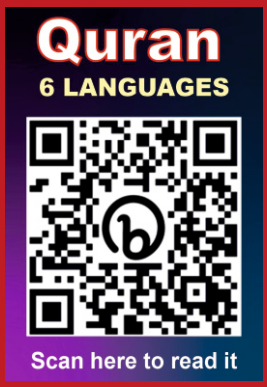

You will find that different people, in different situations, and as a result of different efforts (some unexpectedly), have explained to you from their point of view what they have discovered on their journey to find the True God.

It can also be seen that all these self-explanators are from different backgrounds and inquisitive attitudes towards finding the Truth..

Everyone is basically making a point very strongly. That is, do research, mainly read the Qur'an on priority basis.

As an answer to that, a QR Code of Quran translation is given on the back cover. You can download it in English, Hindi, Kannada, Malayalam, Tamil and Telugu languages.
